THE CARL BARKS LIBRARY IN COLOR!

The Carl Barks Library of Walt Disney's Comics and Stories in Color, when completed, will consist of fifty-one albums reprinting, in chronological order, all of Carl Barks' stories from Walt Disney's Comics and Stories (including two rejected 10-pagers and a number of original Barks covers). Each album contains five stories and comes packaged with one of a series of 52 trading cards featuring Barks' most popular Heroes and Villains. The Carl Barks Library of Donald Duck Adventures in Color will be a series of twenty-five volumes, each with a trading card picturing Donald in one of his escapades, that will not be available anywhere else in any form. Morphin MAIL

Before we get to the letters, Hamilton Comics wishes to extend our sincerest apologies to the contributing creators on our first issue of Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. Through misadventures too embarrassingly complex to relate here, we left them entirely uncredited in the book. As some manner of recompense, we list them at the end of this letter column, along with the creators for the issue you now hold in your hand.

Dear Rangers,

Issue #1 of Saban's Mighty Morphin Power Rangers was very exciting. I was glad to see the original rangers there. Don't get me wrong, I like the newer Rangers also, it's just nice to see them in case you changed them around in the future. The Power Rangers TV show always has a good message for kids, and I think that your comic will have a good impact on little kids...and big kids like me! I hope that you decide to have a letters column. If you do, I'd like to suggest that you call it "Mighty Morphin Power Mail." It's a lot better than "Rita's Readers." Good luck with your comic book. I'll be along for the ride. Until next time!

Your Buddy,
Jeffrey Hamel
Lewiston, ME

We think your suggestion for a letter column title is a goodie, Jeffrey. Before we decide on a permanent one, however, we'd like to give the rest of our readers the chance to offer their suggestions.

Dear Folks,

I just finished reading MMPR #1 and it was great! I have been waiting for this book to come out, and it was well worth it. I am 24 years old and love the Power Rangers, especially Trini! This was my first experience with Hamilton Comics, and I was impressed. The art and writing were excellent. I will continue to support your company. Keep up the good work!

Sincerely,
Mark "Troll" Trollinger
Smyrna, GA

Our inadvertently uncredited creators thank you for your kind words, Mark (or should we address you as "Troll"?).

Dear Hamilton Comics,

Your first issue of Mighty Morphin Power Rangers was awful! You don't have to make it just like the show! It's your comic, so make it more action packed, and use the new Rangers! Have them go over the world, or into outer space, or have a ranger lose his/her powers, or have Zordon killed off! No reason why you can't do this because...it's your comic!!! Take off the kid gloves. Do you think the X-Men got this popular by acting like kids? All I'm saying is toughen them up, have them explore their powers and make new enemies, friends and allies.

Watch every show, and I mean watch them! Because the way you're writing it now, it's just awful, and will be a flop!

Derek Mossman
Flushing, NY

There would seem to be a somewhat mixed message here, Derek. Do you want us to make MMPR our comic, going beyond the TV show, yet stick to exactly what the TV show does?

Our aim is to bring both a new approach to the Power Rangers, yet keep things solidly grounded in the basics established by the TV show. This isn't always easy. For instance, the three new rangers introduced during this season—Rocky, Adam and Aisha—were made known to us well before their first appearance on TV, but too late to be incorporated into the storylines of our first two issues. (They'll make their comic book bow next issue.)

Putting out the fire juggler wasn't on Mickey and Minnie's hot list.

MICKEY AND MINNIE HAVE NEVER FACED A MYSTERY THIS BIG.

Mickey and Minnie must tame the lion before they become the mane course.

"A date at the circus, I can't wait!" says Minnie to Mickey. But when they get there all the performers have disappeared! "We've got to find the villain who did this!" says Mickey. So off they go, wearing magical costumes that give them powers to make it through six levels of frozen tundras, haunted houses and more. Can they really bring the circus back to town? "Come along and see!" exclaims Mickey.

It's safari, so good, as Mickey and Minnie outrun a turtle in the jungle.
